

A provider of electric and telecommunications services for the city and other parts of its region with subsidiaries needed an application review of their existing Oracle Hyperion Planning System 9 environment.

The engagement includes a mix of application analysis and infrastructure review with a deliverable of a report detailing our findings. The team initially assessed the client's requirements and put together a cross-functional team to meet their needs in record time. The client wanted the project completed in record time and the team delivered.